Economic Development District Membership

The northwest Alabama Economic Development District is home to 228,035 residents (U.S. Census Bureau, 2008 population estimates) in five counties- Lauderdale, Colbert, Franklin, Marion and Winston Counties- and 32 municipalities. The Economic Development District Board has a total of 58 members and is made up of the highest elected official of each local government as well appointed members representing the private sector in northwest Alabama. The EDD Board also serves as the Board of Directors for the Northwest Alabama Council of Local Governments, which houses and staffs the EDD.

CEDS Committee Membership

The Northwest Alabama CEDS was constructed with the assistance of a steering committee representing knowledgeable representatives of private sector business and industry, as well as important public and semi-public representatives from government, education, and economic and community development organizations. The CEDS committee guided the planning process and recommended the original CEDS content in 2007. Since 2007, the CEDS committee has served an advisory role concerning the content and implementation of the CEDS, meeting in county-level settings alongside elected officials to discuss a comprehensive range of economic development initiatives.

Recent Changes in the District Economy

Since the original CEDS publication in August 2007, economic conditions in the development district have deteriorated significantly. From late 2007 and throughout 2008 and 2009, employment opportunities in the district steadily deteriorated. The following graphs illustrate changes in the local economy throughout the last decade.

Economic Development Priorities in Northwest Alabama Goals, Objectives and Strategies

The Northwest Alabama CEDS contains a framework of vision, goals, and objectives that represents the “road map” for economic development in the district. These priorities are abstract and concrete principles and projects identified as necessary to regional economic development. They are categorized based on four broad areas of involvement- Transportation, Community Development (Neighborhood and Infrastructure), Support for Business and Industry (Workforce Development, Recruitment and Retention), and Community Development (Capacity and Civic Culture).

ECONOMIC VISION: Northwest Alabama shall be a regional community defined by a distinctive and recognizable identity, high quality of life, strong leadership and public participation, and unity in pursuit of a sustainable, globally and regionally competitive economy.

Goal I: Transportation- Increase and improve the transportation opportunities that link up neighborhoods, cities, and counties.

Objective (a): Identify and remove dangerous transportation conflict points throughout the region.

Objective (b): Improve regional and local (street) transportation networks to increase access to goods, services, markets, and employment opportunities.

Objective (c): Identify and complete improvements to the region’s multi-modal transportation network to improve local and regional access to goods, services, markets, and employment opportunities.

Goal II: Community Development (Neighborhood and Infrastructure) - Establish inclusive planning and development practices that provide safe, sanitary and affordable neighborhoods and communities.

Objective (a): Identify and complete infrastructure improvements that allow for a continued high quality of life by municipal and county residents.

Objective (b): Foster sharing of municipal services and public infrastructure where beneficial to area municipalities and counties.

Objective (c): Seek funding for housing initiatives and mixed use urban redevelopment fostering compact commercial and residential forms.

Objective (d): Improve resident and visitor recreational and cultural opportunities as a means of facilitating population growth and retention and increased economic opportunity.

Objective (e): Initiate an urban and neighborhood planning process that provides master plans and infrastructure improvement assessments for municipalities and counties within the NACOLG region.

Goal III: Support for Business and Industry (Workforce Development, Recruitment and Retention) - Establish strategies that coordinate multiple agencies and private entities in a cooperative effort to attract and retain business and industry.

Objective (a): Expand access to and understanding of technology resources in the region.

Objective (b): Identify opportunities to expand workforce development opportunities by coordinating agencies and industries/businesses and implementing appropriate educational and recruitment programs.

Objective (c): Promote industrial development as a means of attracting higher-skill and higher-wage employment opportunities.

Objective (d): Explore opportunities to support the expansion of existing businesses and the recruitment of additional businesses to the region.

Goal IV: Community Development (Capacity and Civic Culture) - Promote associational life and community identity necessary to leverage the economic benefits of physical and human capital.

Objective (a): Explore the application of asset based economic development principles of identity and sustainability to the development programs of the region.

Strategies and Performance

The strategies identified in the CEDS represent the priority projects for economic development in northwest Alabama. Each strategy is described in terms of its proposed activities, primary contacts and stakeholders with responsibility for implementation, and timeline for implementation, and progress. The following pages summarize the strategies and the status of each in terms of progress made toward completion in the preceding year.

Recommended Practice (pg. 190)	Performance	Comments
Establish the CEDS process as a continuous process	Satisfactory	The CEDS process is being utilized within the region as the primary multi-jurisdictional planning tool of the EDD and member governments
Establish the CEDS Committee as a standing sub-committee	Satisfactory	The CEDS Committee has been recognized as an established subcommittee of the EDD Board
Maintain active public-private membership	Needs Improvement	Although public sector participation is high and private participation is improving, continued outreach and efficacy are required to maintain consistent high levels of private participation
Conduct a minimum of two CEDS meetings	Satisfactory	Two meetings per county have been conducted to discuss regional economic development needs and CEDS Strategies
Provide regular updates to NACOLG/EDD Board	Satisfactory	Regular updates are provided to the EDD Board by community and regional planning staff
Implement a regional development newsletter	Needs Improvement	This recommendation has not been implemented; stakeholders and authors should be contacted to determine interest among participants and recipients
Identify stakeholders and contacts for strategies	Needs Improvement	Although a number have been identified, many CEDS strategies are without stakeholders and contact information
Conduct regular interviews with development contacts	Satisfactory	Planning staff is in frequent contact with CEDS Committee members, stakeholders and strategy contacts to discuss implementation
Develop a system for prioritizing strategies and de-emphasizing dormant strategies	Needs Improvement	Planning staff and the CEDS Committee continue to work toward prioritizing strategies and eliminating those with little support
Complete annual performance updates for each strategy	Satisfactory	Planning staff maintains a record of activity related to each strategy and will update performance annually
Update and expand the CEDS as new data are available; present an annual update	Needs Improvement	Planning staff will present an updated CEDS to the CEDS Committee and EDD Board by the end of the calendar year; document will contain most recent economic profile data and updates to strategy and performance sections

Project Updates

In early 2009, in anticipation of the unprecedented action of the U.S. Congress in passing the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA), NACOLG and other development agencies were asked to identify potential projects to compete for stimulus funding. The list that resulted contained a tremendous number of infrastructure projects deemed critical to local development. Many of these projects were not previously included in the northwest Alabama CEDS. After analyzing this listing and the existing CEDS, a number of additional strategies were identified as important projects to be included in the CEDS. Additionally, several ongoing projects have been identified throughout the previous year and are included as newly added projects.
